

Psalm 119:145-152 – I Cry Out with My Whole Heart

Intro – Once again in Psalm 119:145-152 the psalmist teaches us how to find comfort in trouble. He shows us by lifting up urgent prayers to a God who is always near, who always deals with us in His lovingkindness, and who has given us hope through His unchanging Word. God's deliverance of the psalmist fuels his desire to live life as a sacrifice of praise.

I. The _____ of the Psalmist (vv. 145-147).

- _____: A Model of Urgent Prayer (Heb. 5:7).

II. The _____ that the Psalmist Faces (v. 150).

- The Hope: When trouble is _____, God is _____ (v. 151).

III. The _____ that is the _____ of the Psalmist (v. 149; 151-152).

A. Hope in God's _____ (v. 151a).

B. Hope in the _____ of God's Word (v. 151b).

C. Hope in an _____ God (v. 152).

IV. The _____ of the Psalmist (vv. 145-148).

Psalm 119:145-152 – I Cry Out with My Whole Heart

Intro – Once again in Psalm 119:145-152 the psalmist teaches us how to find comfort in trouble. He shows us by lifting up urgent prayers to a God who is always near, who always deals with us in His lovingkindness, and who has given us hope through His unchanging Word. God's deliverance of the psalmist fuels his desire to live life as a sacrifice of praise.

I. The _____ of the Psalmist (vv. 145-147).

- _____: A Model of Urgent Prayer (Heb. 5:7).

II. The _____ that the Psalmist Faces (v. 150).

- The Hope: When trouble is _____, God is _____ (v. 151).

III. The _____ that is the _____ of the Psalmist (v. 149; 151-152).

A. Hope in God's _____ (v. 151a).

B. Hope in the _____ of God's Word (v. 151b).

C. Hope in an _____ God (v. 152).

IV. The _____ of the Psalmist (vv. 145-148).