Often the marvels we see in creation prompt us to worship. This theme is repeated throughout Scripture: “The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament shows His handiwork” (Ps. 19:1). Creation’s stimulus to praise need not be limited to the visual. It can also be widened to include hearing nature’s songs. As we go about our daily routine, we can tune our hearts to the melodies God has placed in His creatures and let them serve as an added springboard of praise to the Creator. —Dennis Fisher

As Mozart added the song of a bird
To a musical innovation,
Let’s all add our voice to the worldwide song
Of praise to the God of creation. —F. Hess

All of nature is a grand symphony conducted by the Creator.

Mozart’s Pet Bird

The birds of the heavens . . . sing among the branches. —Psalm 104:12

Mozart is revered as a genius of musical composition. In one instance, he was even inspired by the melody of a bird. Mozart had a pet starling whose song so fascinated him that some say he wrote a piece of music based on the melody he heard in the bird’s chirps.

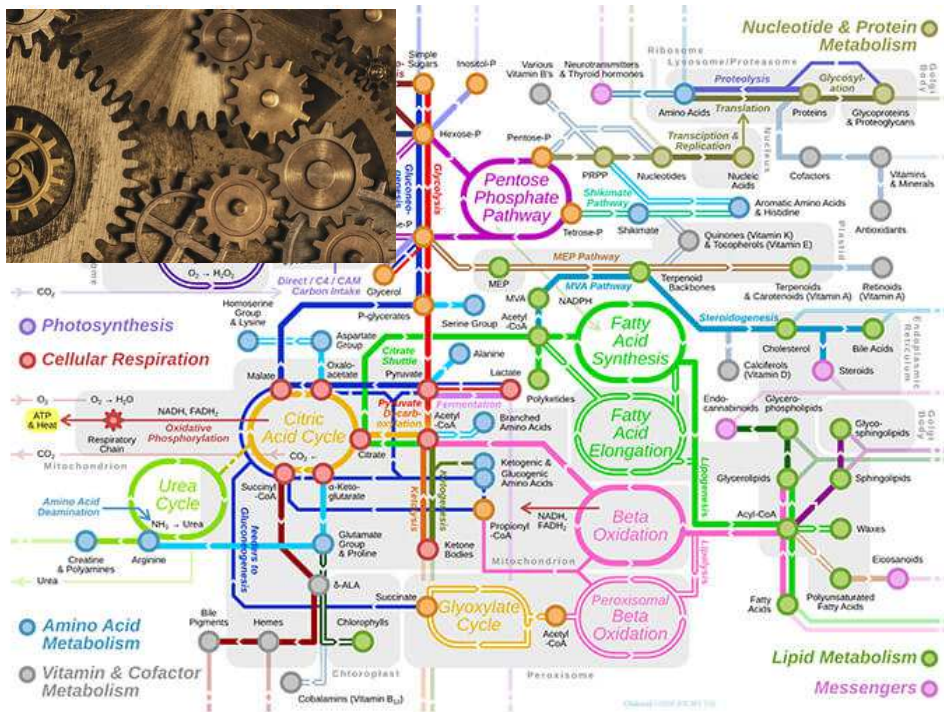

Birds were also an inspiration to the psalmist. In Psalm 104, he praises God for caring for the living creatures He put on the earth. Included in his observations are birds who fly in the heavens above, perch in the branches of trees, and sing songs of heartfelt joy: “The birds of the heavens have their home; they sing among the branches” (v.12). Nature filled the psalmist’s heart with praise to God, and I think that must have included the musical sounds of the birds.

Heart Song

Give God the Glory

(1 Chronicles 16:29) Give to the LORD the glory due His name; Bring an offering, and come before Him. Oh, worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness!

Psalm 104 summarises two appropriate responses from us as we consider God's creation:

1. Be in _____ of God's _____, verses 10-15, 27-30

◆ The _____, verse 2

(Genesis 1:1) In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.

◆ A _____, verse 4

(Job 38:7) When the morning stars sang together, And all the sons of God shouted for joy?

◆ E _____, verse 5

(Genesis 1:2) The earth was without form, and void; and darkness was on the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God was hovering over the face of the waters.

(Job 26:7) ... He hangs the earth on nothing.

◆ The _____, verses 6-8, 24-26

(Genesis 1:9) Then God said, "Let the waters under the heavens be gathered together into one place, and let the dry land appear"; and it was so.

(Job 41:7) Can you fill his skin with harpoons, Or his head with fishing spears? (8) Lay your hand on him; Remember the battle; Never do it again!

◆ P _____, verse 16

(Genesis 1:11) Then God said, "Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb that yields seed, and the fruit tree that yields fruit according to its kind, whose seed is in itself, on the earth"; and it was so.

◆ B _____, verse 17

(Genesis 1:20) Then God said, "Let the waters abound with an abundance of living creatures, and let birds fly above the earth across the face of the firmament of the heavens."

◆ A _____, verse 18

(Genesis 1:24) Then God said, "Let the earth bring forth the living creature according to its kind: cattle and creeping thing and beast of the earth, each according to its kind"; and it was so.

◆ _____ and _____, verses 20-23

(Genesis 1:14) Then God said, "Let there be lights in the firmament of the heavens to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs and seasons, and for days and years;

(Genesis 9:20) And Noah began to be a farmer, and he planted a vineyard. (21) Then he drank of the wine and was drunk, and became uncovered in his tent.

(Romans 14:13) Therefore let us not judge one another anymore, but rather resolve this, not to put a stumbling block or a cause to fall in our brother's way.

The same compound can occur in R and L handed forms, and in random distribution of 50% one and 50% the other, EXCEPT in the cell. In the cell, with many of these molecules the ratio is 100% of one and 0% of the other. Therefore the cell is not formed randomly but specifically designed or created.
